Writing Studio

Our mission is to help improve the writing skills of students, both undergraduate and graduate in any course across the curriculum.

Students in English Composition or any other courses that require writing should come to the Writing Studio during drop in hours for tutoring of their papers well in advance of the due date (24 hours or more).

Students utilizing the Writing Studio can expect:

- To be greeted warmly and treated respectfully by knowledgeable Peer Educators who are competent in writing tutoring
- To sign-in and out at each visit
- To experience a comfortable environment that promotes active learning
- To Complete a short survey summarizing their experience at the Writing Studio

Students utilizing the Writing Studio should bring:

- A printed version of their writing
- A copy of the writing assignment from their instructor
- Notes and assignment

Our Peer Educators (tutors) have an overall GPA of 3.0 and a 4.0 GPA in English Composition courses.

Hours of Operation are posted outside the Writing Studio, Rm. 205 in the W. C. Jason Library
