Unique French Media Link-Up Germany Spearheads Euro TV Music Channel

Paris - France's Antenne 2 and Europe 1 have combined forces in the first full-scale link-up between a state-owned television channel and a commercial radio station for a nightly variety show.

The subject of the alliance is the long-running 'Entre Sans Frapper', a show which mixes pop music with entertainment features and interviews. The programme is broadcast at midnight every weekday from Europe 1's studios, with simultaneous transmission on Antenne 2.

The producers are aiming for a high income audience just back from a night on the town. Europe 1 Programme Chief Jean-Pierre Elkabach describes the project as an important landmark in the station's links with television, while at Antenne 2, Director Louis Beriot says it is an historic event for the audio-visual industry.

Mainz - Eleven European broadcasters met at the offices of West Germany's public-owned TV channel ZDF recently to discuss the possibilities of a joint European music channel.

The stations involved are: Antenne 2 (France); BBC (UK); CST (Czechoslovakia); DDR TV (East Germany); Gostelera Dio (USSR); MTV (Hungary); ORF (Austria); RAI (Italy); RTVE (Spain); SRG (Switzerland); and TVP (Poland). The concept is being pushed by ZDF Manager, Wolfgang Bernhardt.

expected that it will include some pop programming. Bernhardt wants to clarify which programmes and broadcasting rights are available and how much acquisition will cost. It also has to be checked whether the channel could be financed through a European subscription TV or whether sponsorship could be found. There are no plans to have commercials on the new European channel.

The Greatest Show On Earth?

In what is expected to be the greatest show on earth, Michael Jackson will tour Europe next summer with 19 gigs lined up so far for the Continent and three for the UK. The superstar will be accompanied by a crew of 140 and 24 trucks will be needed to transport the technical equipment.

contact with Michael Jackson, whose latest LP Bad has dominated the charts since its release this summer, Pepsi Cola will sponsor the tour.

The tour begins in Rome on May 24-25, and includes concerts in Milan (May 29); Vienna (June 2); Rotterdam (June 5-7); Gothenburg (June 11-12); Basel (June 16); Berlin (June 19); Nice (June 23); Paris (June 26-28); Hamburg (July 1); Cologne (July 3); Munich (July 8); Mannheim (July 10) and London (July 14-16).

Hurl! To Leave BBC

The BBC's light entertainment executive producer, Michael Hurl!, has signed a one-year contract with London Weekend Television (LWT), effective next March. Meanwhile, LWT's head of special programmes, Richard Drewett, is rejoining the BBC which he left 10 years ago.

Hurl!, prolific producer of such shows as 'Top Of The Pops', 'The Late, Late Breakfast Show' and the Montreux Rock festivals, will spend six months at LWT where he will be Executive Producer for as yet unspecified shows.

Richard Drewett's exact function, which he takes up on January 1, has not been announced, though he will be an executive producer in charge of a wide variety of programmes, from light entertainment to documentaries.

French Campaign Heralds Tax Drop

French Turnover Up 10%

by Emmanuel Legrand

Paris - An advertising campaign costing Frf 7 million has been launched by the French record industry to publicise the 11% drop in Value Added Tax (VAT) on records and cassettes. The industry expects the tax drop and accompanying advertising campaign to push up sales by 25% on last year's figures.

The three-week long campaign runs up to Christmas and consists of four different seven-minute TV spots, which are shown on six TV channels, and 10-minute commercials on radio, broadcast on RTL, RMC, Europe 1 and NRJ. There is also a series of five huge posters which have been put onto 3,000 billboards throughout France's major cities. It is estimated that 90% of the French population will see the TV spots, 60% will hear the radio commercials and 50% will see the posters.

Several of the major record companies have also launched special Christmas campaigns. A general industry agreement forbids the advertising of specific records on TV in France but BMG have got around this by working with TF1 on a competition programme through which it pushes '10 Ideas For Gifts'; the LPs featured include those by U2, the Eurythmics and Stevie Wonder.

Most of the other campaigns involve in-store displays and press advertising. WEA are going for the theme 'The Christmas Of The Record' highlighting 13 major LPs by artists such as Paul Simon, Madonna and the Bee Gees as well as French acts (Gold, Images, France Gall). Virgin, PolyGram, CBS and EMI Paribas have planned more general marketing efforts.

Cinderella Story - Bonnie Bianco signs a world-wide contract with WEA Germany. The singer enjoyed a recent no. 1 hit in Germany with 'Stary' and picked up golden awards for the albums 'Cinderella' and 'Just Me'. Back row: Gerit Gebhardt (WEA Marketing Director), Axel Meyer-Wolden (Bianco's lawyer). Sitting: Sam Gino (Manager) and Manfred Zankeller (WEA Germany MD).

100 New Jobs At TVS

Television South, the biggest beneficiaries of the recent ITV changes giving more network time to regional companies, are taking on 100 extra production staff. The jobs will be based at the company's Maidstone and Southampton studios and are mainly for technical staff. The announcement comes at a time when most ITV companies and the BBC are seeking staff cuts because of increased quotas of independent production. Disputes over manning levels and rescheduling are currently affecting programmes at breakfast channel TV-AM and threatening output at Thames TV and Tynes Tees Television.

Paris - French industry body SNEP has announced a 10% increase in market turnover in the three months to September 1987, largely the result of CD sales at double the level of one year ago.

Also up were cassette sales, with a 13% increase over the same period last year. But the progress of CD and pre-recorded tape has been at the expense of vinyl albums, which registered a 17% fall. Although this is better than the 23% fall registered in the last set of SNEP figures, the improvement is not seen as much consolation given the quality of the album releases available during the quarter, which included U2's The Joshua Tree and Madonna's True Blue.

Singles sales recorded a slight 0.4% rise, encouraging after the 11% drop of the previous quarter, but again the upturn is seen as a reflection of the quality of the national and international repertoire on offer, rather than as the beginning of a long-term trend.

WEA emerges as the leading record company, with Madonna responsible for the top-selling album and two top-selling singles. France Gall's Bahacur and Image's Le Coeur En Exil also performed well and, in total, the company had 13 album titles in the Top 30.

France's TF1 Announces Profit

France's leading TV channel, TF1, which was privatised earlier this year, has announced a profit of Frf 13.6 million for the year ending August 30. TF1's turnover for the first eight months of 1987 reached Frf 2.076 billion, mostly coming from advertising revenue.

According to a statement by the channel, TF1's audience share has increased during the last four months, reaching 45%, compared with 40% for the first four months of '87. "This progression has been made possible only by an important effort on programmes, but our expense budgets have increased, especially the programmes" (more than 50%), due to the new competition," said the statement.

Virgin Store Opens In Paris

Paris - Virgin is to open its first record store outside the UK next year. A 3,000 square metre record shop, the first of its kind in France, will specialise in all music formats and styles. The Paris shop is expected to be the first of a chain. A new company, apart from Virgin Records France which was set up seven years ago, will be established to handle the retail outlet. Virgin owns and operates a hundred record shops in the UK.

France Gets First Private Local TV

by Emmanuel Legrand

Toulouse will be the first city in France to have a private local TV station, following a decision by the CNCL (National Commission For Communications & Freedom). The channel, called Tele-Toulouse, is backed by the city of Toulouse, La Depeche Du Midi, the city's daily newspaper, CGE which is France's main water supplier, and a local bank. Programmes are to start in April next year with a budget of Frf 11 million and 12 employees.

The station is expected to broadcast a daily programme of one hour on six days a week, consisting mainly of local news, features and short films. The company's Managing Director is Christian Castellani, a former CGE executive.

Facelift For Germany's Formel Eins

The number one TV pop show in Germany, WDR's "Formel Eins," is presenting a new concept as of January 9 next year. Apart from screening the latest videos, the 45-minute show will have more space for short news stories on pop, film, fashion and sports. The show also welcomes new presenter Kai Bocking, a 23-year-old from Munich's private radio, Gong 2000, who will replace Stefanie Tucking.

Swiduo Yello have written a new title melody for the show which will be broadcast in stereo as from January. Bavaria's Andreas Thiesmeyer will continue to produce the programme; 40 shows are being scheduled for next year.

"Formel Eins" recently moved from the third channel to the first and this is seen as a major breakthrough as it guarantees national coverage (see M&M issue 32). Parts of "Formel Eins" will also be shown on the London-based satellite service Super Channel under the title "Formula One," replacing the Dutch produced "Countdown" show which has now gone to Sky Channel (see M&M issue 46).

New Agnetha Faltskog LP

Swedish vocalist Agnetha Faltskog, for years the lead singer of Abba, has completed work on her first solo album for WEA Sweden, entitled I Stand Alone. Produced by Warner Brothers recording artist Peter Cetera, the LP will be released in Europe on January 15, but has already shipped gold in Sweden.

The album was co-produced by guitarist Bruce Gatsich, co-author of Madonna's La Isla Bonita. Apart from Cetera and Gatsich who collaborated on the track, other songwriters include Albert Hammond, Peter Brown and Austin Roberts.

The first European single will be The Last Time, scheduled for release the first week of January, and other key cuts include I Wanna Be The One (a duet with Cetera), Love In A Duet (with Cetera), Love In A Duet Gone Mad, Little White Secrets and Let Me Shine. In the US the album will be released through Atlantic, set for February 1988.

As a member of Abba, and subsequently as a solo artist, Faltskog has sold over 100 million records worldwide.

Bolland Bros Buy Soundpush

Dutch brothers Rob and Ferdi Bolland have bought the Dutch recording studios Soundpush situated in Blaricum (close by Holland's broadcasting centre, Hilversum) from "Stars On 45" producer Jaap Eggermont. Soundpush will be renamed Bolland Studios BV and other Bolland & Bolland companies like Le Disque Holland, Le Disque Music Publishing and Bolland Music, will move to the new premises at a later date.

New Name For WDR Channel

The third channel of the German Westdeutscher Rundfunk (WDR) has changed name to West 3 to designate the new style of the channel. As of January 4 next year, West 3 will be an all-round TV channel with the purchase is further proof of the duo's international aspirations, having enjoyed international successes with production and composing work for Falco, Roger Chapman and Amii Stewart. The Bolland's next production will be for German act Niema next year. Eggermont will continue recording audio-visual productions in his own Soundpush/Jingle TV studios.

the emphasis on movies, entertainment and sports under the direction of WDR Programme Director Gunter Struve. West 3 will also get its own news programme, entitled 'West 3 Aktuell'.

CBS UK Releases First CD Picture Discs

by Peter Jones

London - CBS UK has released the world's first commercially available CD picture discs. The launch involves four major artists and each comes in a limited edition of 10,000 units.

All four have already sold in excess of 400,000 units of 'normal' LPs, cassettes or CD formats. The releases are Faith by George Michael and Bad by Michael Jackson (both on Epic) and the CBS titles Tunnel of Love by Bruce Springsteen and Introducing The Hardline

According To by Terence Trent D'Arby.

As all the music is on the 'bottom' side of the CD, the whole top side is taken up with full-colour pictures of the artists. CBS/Epic Marketing Directors Alan Phillips and Jerry Turner: "This is a major step forward in marketing CDs as a pop format. The CD picture discs are the ultimate collectors' items and as such will only be produced in limited editions."

CD Special - Four limited editions of the first picture disc CDs.

Scandinavian Tele X Shelved

by Lars Nylén

Stockholm - Plans concerning the Scandinavian satellite project Tele X (to be launched with the French Ariane Rocket in 1988) seem to have ended in a anticlimax. This was the conclusion of the Scandinavian Council last month. The Tele X project was aimed mainly towards broadcasting co-operation between the Scandinavian television monopolies in the 90s. But some of the governments involved (Sweden, Finland, Norway and Denmark) have grown more and more doubtful about the project over the last years and the latest session of the Scandinavian Council marked its death.

Top Line-Up For Italian Night

Dortmund - Some 25 top Italian artists were scheduled to perform at the 'Notte Italiana' (The Italian Night), a special two-day gala organised by German public broadcaster ZDF and Germany's leading concert promoter, Mamma Concerts. On December 18 and 19 artists like Eros Ramazzotti, Gianna Nannini, Mattia Bazar, Sabrina, Alice, Al Bano & Romina Power, Umberto Tozzi & Raffi, Zucchero, Francesco Napoli, Tony Esposito, Edoardo Bennato and Ricchi e Poveri were to go on stage of Dortmund's Westfalen Halle. A similar event was set up four years ago in Munich. The show will be broadcast by ZDF in February next year and the 90-minute programme will be sold to various territories including some in the East bloc.

Contrary to our statement in last week's M&M (issue 49), Jean Davoust has not resigned as President of Warner Bros Music in France. Negotiations are currently under way.

German Cable Households Watch More TV

by Wolfgang Spahr

Hamburg - The private TV stations SAT-1 and, to a lesser extent, RTL Plus are gaining more viewers. Recently, for the first time, SAT-1 had more than a million viewers for a feature film in households with cable; a film starring John Wayne reached a viewing rate of 23%. Since SAT-1 can be received via terrestrial aerials in Berlin, Mainz, Koblenz, Trier, Kaiserslautern and Munich, the actual viewing rate was probably even higher.

Three million (1%) of the 25.7 million TV households are connected to cable. According to the West German PIT, 2.4 million can receive the private stations SAT-1 and RTL Plus. Households with cable watch more TV than households with conventional aerials, according to a survey done on behalf of public broadcasters ARD and ZDF and private channels SAT-1 and RTL Plus.

The survey found that the TV set was switched on for 162 minutes per day in households with cable, 10 minutes more than in households without cable. TV consumption per day in West Germany generally has increased from 145 minutes to 152 minutes this year. Every adult over 14 therefore spends two-and-a-half hours a day watching TV.

ARD and ZDF are losing market shares in the cable districts. Whereas their average joint share is 84%, (ARD 43% and ZDF 41%), this drops to 56% in cable households (ARD 30%; ZDF 26%). The third ARD channel is being used by 1% of viewers. The joint share of SAT-1 and RTL Plus in cable households is 22%.

Video News

Dancing Into Danger

Three videos were completed recently at Bavaria Studios in Munich, each produced by Andreas Thiesmeyer. The clips to Modern Talking's In 100 Years and to Blue System's Sorry, Little Sarah were wrapped up by directing duo Kai von Kotze and Roland Willaert, and the promo to Inker & Hamilton's Dancing Into Danger was directed by the Austrian 'torpedo twins', Hannes Rossacher and Rudolf Dolezal *

The latter have been fairly prolific shooting clips to accompany the duet by Falco & Brigitte Nielson (Rambo's ex-wife), entitled Body Next To Body. This was shot in Vienna and composed by Giorgio Moroder * Michael Jackson's sister, LaToya Jackson, has released a single entitled Am I Nobody Love You Like I Do, also accompanied by a clip directed by the Austrian team *

All The Best In Paris - Paul McCartney visited Paris recently to promote his latest video album, 'All The Best' on various TV shows including 'TF1's Sacree Soiree' and 'Champs Elysees' on Antenne 2.

CBS/Fox Video have released a compilation music video, Hits 7, which came out simultaneously with an album of the same name. Hits 7 includes Rick Astley's Never Gonna Give You Up, Terence Trent D'Arby's Wishing Well, and Wax's Bridge To Your Heart *

Virgin Video have released a 40-minute video featuring seven of Peter Gabriel's classic songs, one of which (Sledgehammer) recently won a staggering 10 awards at the MTV Awards in Los Angeles. This is Gabriel's first long form and is called C/V; it includes Big Time, Sledgehammer, Shock The Monkey, and Don't Give Up with Kate Bush *

EBU & Murdoch To Launch Sports TV

by Edwin Riddell

An unlikely combination of European public service broadcasters and Rupert Murdoch's Sky Channel has agreed in principle to establish a joint pan-European television sports channel next year.

The initiative comes from the European Broadcasting Union (EBU) under the chairmanship of BBC Controller of International Relations, Alan Hart. "The EBU has been very successful in negotiating a number of long-term sporting contracts", says Hart. "There is obviously no prospect of increasing the coverage on existing terrestrial channels. This will obviously strengthen our hands when it comes to securing contracts."

The new satellite channel is

Spanish Video Stations Plan Network

by Jose Ramon Pardo

The Spanish 'community video' stations are considering the formation of a network which would broadcast six hours of daily programming. As no connections between stations exist at present, Avideo, an association uniting 372 video firms, will employ the same system used by Berlusconi to overcome Italian laws forbidding nationwide broadcasts; recording the six hours of programming and then distributing copies to the associated 'community video' stations.

To avoid the sanctions foreseen with the implementation of the new intellectual property law against those who broadcast films or programmes without paying copyrights, Avideo has purchased several long-running Hispanic/American serials as well as Spanish productions of films and cartoons.

RADIO RAP

by Cathy Inglis
UK's Network Chart Show which is already heard by listeners to 45 independent radio stations in the UK, several radio in the Far East, and Uptown FM in Denmark, has recently been sold to Zealand and Colombia. This is largely due to the active work of Capital Radio's overseas programming department. Talking of Capital, the radio has confirmed that Programme Director Jo Sandilands will not, after all, be returning to the station when her maternity leave expires in February. Favourite to replace her looks like being Head Of Music and acting Programme Director, Richard Park, who came to Capital from Radio Clyde earlier this year to help revive the London station's flagging ratings. Another departure over in Paris. Philippe Micouleau, who headed the artistic services of RTL has left the station to join Hachette, France's biggest publishing group and, interestingly, owners of rival station Europe 1. Head Of Music, Monique Le Marais, and Director Of Production, Henri Agogue, both of whom report to Philippe Labro, RTL's MD, will now run the department, including all aspects of light entertainment, music and concert sponsorship. It now looks more and more certain that Pierre Albert, imprisoned Director of France's Radio Nostalgie, will be behind bars for a long spell. Meanwhile, Radio Monte Carlo, which owns 35% of Nostalgie's shares, is attempting to sort out the confusion at the station. It looks as if commercials on Danish radio could be a step closer. Birte Weiss, Vice-President of Denmark's Social Democratic party, is recently reported to have said: "We simply can't continue to let the stations down. They need money and they need it now!" All fingers must be crossed over in Denmark.

Setback For Europe 2/ Hit FM Merger

by Cathy Inglis

The expected merger between France's radio networks, Europe 2 and Hit FM, which was due to start operating last Sunday (December 6) was blocked two days earlier by a sudden decision from the CNCL (Commission For Communications & Freedom). The motives for the block are very confused with each party involved putting forward a different and decidedly partial interpretation. The CNCL were informed of the wish of the two networks to merge at the end of October. They were then presented with a dossier which they found unsatisfactory and are now waiting for a new one to be put to them

VOA First For Finnish Private

by Kari Helopalmio

Helsinki - Jarviradio, a small commercial radio station based in Alajarvi, Finland, has become the first Scandinavian broadcaster to use Voice Of America's special satellite transmissions to Europe. The initial emphasis will be on popular music, with programmes such as Casey Kasem's 'American Top 40 Show' based on the Billboard charts, which will be broadcast on Fridays. Transmitting on 89.5MHz FM, Jarviradio began broadcasting November 20 with an initial four hours of programming daily.

Radio Relaunch - The Radio Franken team in Nuremberg celebrate the relaunch of their station, the only radio in Germany to use the RCS computer. Joining in with the DJs are Sigi Hogg, Music Director (right) and Al Roldan, consultant for the new format and relaunch centre.

Swiss Privates In Deficit

Thomas Kung

Bern's two private radio stations, ExtraBERN and 104-Foederband, are both struggling with financial deficits, a situation they explained at a meeting of the Swiss Journalist Union (SJU). Hans Rudolf Matscher from ExtraBERN said that Bern's commercial radios had missed the 'advertisement train' and should try to motivate advertising agencies. But advertising agencies hesitate to order advertising spots because the official state-owned station DRS1 is so popular in the area. ExtraBERN has a budget of Sfr 2 million a year and a deficit of Sfr 200,000. 104-Foederband, which switched this year from a non-commercial cultural channel to a commercial station, costs Sfr 1 million to run and has a deficit of Sfr 200,000. Both station directors said that the market in Bern should be big enough for two private stations and promised to work harder on their identity, in fact the two stations play similar music. Both denied plans to merge. 104-Foederband works together with Radio 24, a private radio in Zurich.

More Pop On East German Radio

Berliner Rundfunk, East Germany's state radio, has implemented new programming this month. Music programmes in particular have been expanded with the result that they now take up more than two-thirds of the whole broadcasting time. One reason making this possible was that the 'Youth Studio DT 64' service from Berliner Rundfunk has developed into an independent youth radio with its own programming on its own frequencies. New programmes include 'Kalle's Hit Parade', 'Music From Berlin' and 'Evergreens From Everywhere'. So-called 'serious music' now makes up almost one-fifth of broadcasting time and short news bulletins have also been increased.

Continuing our regular features on major European studios, M&M presents STUDIO MARCADET in Paris. Next month we go to Soundview Studio in Switzerland.

record of top, world-renowned recording artists. Sade, Cock Robin, Prince and George Michael to name but a few, have recently checked-in at Marcadet to work on their various projects.

As always, it is the people which make the crucial difference between the commonplace and the exceptional. The staff at Marcadet combine humour and efficiency - essential ingredients to run a successful recording facility.

Owner Georges Blumenfeld's recording career started as an engineer back in 1968. His entrepreneurial activities started at an AES Convention in the States when he came to an arrangement with Aphex to represent their products in France. The proceeds from this arrangement enabled him to take advantage of an opportunity to buy Marcadet in 1982 (then situated in the city centre).

Taking account of the high rent and the parking difficulties (for which Paris is justly famous), he decided to move the equipment into new purpose-built premises on the outskirts of the city. The Los Angeles acoustic team Lakeside was brought in and the result is a large control-room with a large recording area, representative of recording requirements in the

by Janet Angus

Situated on the northern outskirts of Paris, Studio Marcadet has earned a reputation throughout Europe and America as a prime recording facility. Its facilities, both equipment and studio-wise, easily compete with the very best studios, a fact which is borne out by its impressive track record, a fact which is borne out by its impressive track record, a fact which is borne out by its impressive track record.

Marcadet's new SSL 4002 56-channel desk early 80s.

Marcadet has been at the forefront of recording technology in France, being one of the first to acquire digital multi-track (3M DMS 32-track) in 1983 and the Solid State Logic SL4000E in 1984. This coincided with the building of a new room, studio two complete with overdub facility, which took on the original API console and 3M machine, leaving the path clear for studio one to be refurbished with the SSL and a new SM machine.

Last month saw the introduction of a new G Series SL console with the result that studio three is now on the cards to accommodate the homeless SSL E Series. Blumenfeld has also invested in a Sony 3324 digital multi-track and plans to add the Mitsubishi 32-track in 1988. Digital recording is very much the vogue in France, possibly more so than in the UK. The onus is on the studios to provide the facilities as the record companies are not prepared to pay the extra £500-600 a day involved to hire digital recording. This situation contrasts strongly with the UK where the record companies are not prepared to pay, but neither are the studios in a position to do so.

Blumenfeld: "Everything is digital. All records are released digitally. CD has doubled the market every year since its introduction; the CD took off very fast in France. Everything has to be digital".

The trustworthy API console underwent a complete overhaul in 1981/2 when it was retro-fitted with Aphex EQ, noise gates and compressors. "The whole chain was modified; we took out all the transformers. It is a really good desk now".

The choice of SSL was made on technical grounds rather than those of market pressure. "I chose SSL because as an engineer I found it easy to understand. It is a console designed by an engineer, for engineers".

"I chose SSL because as an engineer I found it easy to understand." Georges Blumenfeld, owner Studio Marcadet

Nevertheless when the G Series was announced, Blumenfeld was quick to upgrade: "Since the beginning I have told SSL I didn't like the EQ. So now they have changed the EQ and we have bought the new desk!" Studio one is a vast recording area (11 square metres) with plenty of live acoustic provided by its marble floor. The adjoining 50 square metres control room, although built along the space-saving principles of the early 80s, manages to retain plenty of room for today's preference for working in the control-room.

For a studio which undertakes absolutely no live marketing, Marcadet's record must be an enviable one. "I don't actively seek business through the record companies the way some studios do. I really don't do that," says Blumenfeld. Nevertheless, the list of regular artists is very impressive: Yves Roze, Frank Darcet, Michel Esteban, JJ Souplet, J Morali, E. Daho, Adam Kidron, Ben Rogan, Mike Pela. Spring 1986 saw Marcadet heading the Music Week Top 10 Recording Studios Chart. "I was amazed," says Blumenfeld, "I have no idea why".

"I don't actively seek business through the record companies the way some studios do."

As for the competition, Blumenfeld really does not seem to take much notice. A practised eye takes in what other facilities are doing but the effect on Marcadet is negligible. "For me, there are around five other recording studios in Paris and the rest...well they call themselves studios. I know it sounds terrible but it is true. There are more and more studios opening and I don't know where the money is coming from. When they open, they drop the price - they don't know what they are doing. They can't even pay the rent and eventually have to close down. Five more SSL rooms will open next year, where is the money going to come from?"

Although it is the major investment, a recording console is not all a French studio is required to provide. According to Blumenfeld, hire facilities are negligible and the permanent outboard list is therefore necessarily extensive. "British and American artists know precisely what they want to use and send specific instructions. With other artists, you could offer 10 different things and they wouldn't know what to choose. So I've always got everything. I've got the real things - always. I am the real thing".

Italian Couple Continue International Appeal

by Peter de Bruyn Kops

Already successful in several European countries for years, the talented husband and wife team Al Bano (Carrisi) & Romina Power have launched their second WEA album Libertal (Freedom), the follow-up to the hit Sempre Sempre (Always Always) album. Listening to the new LP, a true stock of potential European hits, it seems clear that the couple's audience will only increase. The lead-off single, Libertal, was recently our Single Of The Week (issue 48). The artists are currently on a promotional tour through Europe and, when in Amsterdam, they spoke to M&M about their unique career.

Whereas Al Bano Carrisi is a native Italian, Romina Power was born in Los Angeles, spent her youth in England, Mexico and the US and finally arrived in Rome when she was 13. Although the couple sing primarily in Italian, the latest album was also recorded in Spanish for the South American market. The only song not translated into Spanish is Abbi Fedele, a duet by Romina and her daughter Ylenia, one of the couple's four children. Considering that the album was recorded in Germany (Chameleon Studios in Hamburg and Union Studios in Munich) with musicians from various countries, it is clear that the LP is very much an international affair. Carrisi and Power worked with producers 'Little Big' Horn and Al Camarero for the first time on this album.

Al Bano and Romina have not always worked together. Before they married 17 years ago, Al Bano already had a few years of a successful singing career behind him. His voice, which has a range of eight-and-a-half octaves, is his extraordinary and distinctive trademark. During the shooting of a film in which one of his hits was used in the musical score, he met Romina, who was then considered one of Italy's most promising young actresses - following in the footsteps of her father, Hollywood heart-throb Tyrone Power.

So how did their co-operation as a duo start? Power: "There was no particular decision at a certain moment. It just developed naturally. In 1969, before we worked together, Al Bano had written a song for me which became an immediate hit. Later, when we were married, it happened just naturally that, as we were both involved in music, we teamed up in that field too. I focus more and more on the lyrics, while it is still mostly Al Bano who writes the music."

That music has a very wide appeal: mainstream songs that are highly accessible to international audiences in spite of, or probably because of, the Italian lyrics which add a strong southern feel. The music is coupled with a special 'grand' sound that makes many of the songs chart-ready when issued as singles.

On the new album, at least both Libertal and La Mie Radice (My Roots) have the qualities for becoming big hits. Other contenders include Makassar and Ma Il Cuore No (But the Heart Says No).

The couple's career is a true success story which started with several international hits in the 70s and reached several high points including the presence of four of their songs in the Italian hit parade in 1982, numerous gold and platinum records and various awards and prizes such as the 1982 Golden Europe Prize awarded in Germany. In 1984 they won the San Remo Festival with Ci Sara (There Will Be) and in 1986 they signed to WEA Germany and Italy, followed by the internationally successful Sempre Sempre album.

Al Bano and Romina Power also sell records in Russia. Al Bano: "Last year we did a tour in Russia, mainly Leningrad and Moscow, for six weeks, playing for some 18,000 people at each concert. The tour included a live recording session on the Red Square - we were the first ones to do this, which was broadcast in Italy."

Travelling the world has become a vital part of their work. Power: "I think that we shouldn't just be seen as part of the current 'crossover movement' of Italian artists because we have always been crossing borders. For instance, we have loyal fans in the Latin country in the States and we have had several hits in France during the 70s. At concerts, the audience often sing along to the lyrics and it's funny because sometimes they seem to know the words 'better than us!' Something special about our gigs is that I often recite some poetry that I write, just to create a quiet moment."

But what about Power's acting career? "Actually I never left acting completely behind. Al Bano and I did eight movies together. However, I don't want to leave my career as a singer and although I am not against doing some acting in between, I feel that, especially as a woman, one must be very careful - it seems to happen that as soon as you are involved in a film, understating is all they want from you and I'm not into that sort of thing. I like to write songs in the way I choose rather than being told by a film director what to do. But now we are both involved in a future film that we both feel very positive about, a sort of European 'Easy Rider' idea."

This spring Al Bano and Power will tour Southern America and the US and a European tour is planned for next winter.

Cock Robin - Europe Is On Their Side

Very often American artists use Europe as a base to break into their home territory. It happened with Jimi Hendrix, who used his success in the UK to conquer the US and, more recently, Terence Trent D'Arby has employed a similar strategy. And maybe the same will happen with LA-based act Cock Robin who have built a solid sales base in Europe, something which has not yet led to success in the States.

Cock Robin's European success began in 1986 in France when the duo's first single When Your Heart Is Weak exploded on the FM stations; the single sold some 100,000 copies in France. CBS International had a hit on their hands with an American band who were making music with a definite European feel. Potential for the rest of Europe was quickly recognised, and the band more or less settled themselves in Paris from where they undertook various European promotion tours. After presenting themselves at the first IMMC (International Music & Media Conference) in '86, Cock Robin played selected gigs throughout Europe. They were invited to tour with French superstar Jean-Jacques Goldman as support act, giving the band a good opportunity to perform for large audiences.

The duo's first album, Cock Robin, yielding two more hit singles, Promise You Made and Thought You Were On My Side, has sold three to four million on the Continent and is gold in France, Holland and Germany. The follow-up, released earlier this year, After Here Through Midland (including the singles Just Around The Corner, The Biggest Fool Of All and the new one El Norte), has approached the million mark and has hit gold in France and Switzerland and silver in Holland and Norway.

Cock Robin are further proof of the Continent's power in picking up new (non-European) bands in a big way."

Burger, Director Sales & Marketing CBS Europe, is convinced of: "It proves once again that, given the right songs and the commitment of the artist and record company, the Continent is capable of breaking new (non-European) bands in a big way."

SINGLES

SINGLE OF THE WEEK

Hooters

Johnny B - CBS

Probably the best track from the Philadelphia-based band's second album One Way Home. The band are known for their melodic base, giving folk influences a natural place next to rock and pop. This great piece of epic folk-rock features passionate lead vocals in a brooding production. The highly intriguing video is on medium rotation on MTV Europe. The German markets have already proved the power of this song.

Pet Shop Boys

Always On My Mind - Parlophone

Their first ever cover (Presley, 1972), injects pulsating electro beats into the original, making it a highly memorable and ultra-commercial song.

Chris De Burgh

The Simple Truth (A Child Is Born) - A&M

The singer's penchant for pompous pop is effectively applied to the Christmas season. A slow-stepping ballad gradually building into a grand finale.

Donna Summer

All Systems Go - Warner Brothers

The title track from her current album, with an appealing, slowly upward pushing hook in a modest but clever production (by Harold Faltermeyer).

Los Lobos

Donna - Slash/London

The third rendition of a Ritchie Valens song by the wolves from East LA. The atmosphere of the typical 50s pop ballad is left completely intact.

Run DMC

Christmas In Hollis - Profile/London

Hilarious Christmas wish from the rappers from Brooklyn. Funky beats and festive brass go hand in hand with Christmas carols. Comes from the A&M charity LP, A Very Special Christmas.

Modern Talking

In 100 Years... - Hansa

How Dieter Bohlen does it is a puzzle, but each time he manages to come up with a synthesizer-based pop song that is brutally commercial and exploits the hook-line to the very extreme.

William Pitt

Funny Girl - Public

A gentle beat is set next to Pitt's soft, almost whispering vocals. A very atmospheric recording with lively saxophone solos. Follow-up to the European hit City Lights.

Hearst

There's The Girl - Capitol

The third release from the Bad Animals LP, featuring a soaring chorus over a slightly rocking beat. Written by Nancy Wilson and Holly Knight, Hearst have never sounded more pop oriented.

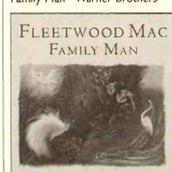

The Beach Boys & Little Richard

Happy Endings - Critique/Atco

Saccharine ballad gets extra texture by the surfers' trade-mark vocals. From the OST "The Telephone".

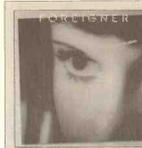

Fleetwood Mac

Family Man - Warner Brothers

Very keen production and a crystal clear acoustic guitar contribute to the song's addictive and slowly pulsing drive. The fourth hit single from Tango In The Night.

ALBUMS

ALBUM OF THE WEEK

Foreigner

Inside Information - Atlantic

Band deepens standard formula of solid hooks, steady drives and first rate musicianship by including some new sounds. However, the band's determination and spirit remains intact resulting in a radio-smart LP boasting several singles candidates. The obvious contender is the sure-fire hit Heart Turns To Stone, sporting an irresistible chorus. Other hypotic and easily identifiable tracks include Inside Information, Face To Face and Out Of The Blue.

Nina Hagen

Love - CBS

'Best Of' album from Germany's first lady of punk. A varied selection from her intelligent, energetic and musically wide-sourced material, this compilation has occasional saxophones do the job. Love Don't Lie and Heart Vs. Head have hit allure. Also check out Temptation, Gates Of Paradise and the stunning, mesmerising What Is Love.

Al Bano & Romina Power

Libertal - WEA

Internationally accessible, mainstream songs with a 'grand' southern feel from this Italian married couple. The material's commerciality is very much an inseparable part of its style. Glossy songs with dramatic build-ups in which the full palette of hit esthetics is used. Libertal, Le Me Radici, Abbi Fede and Makassar. See also Spotlight on page 11.

Time Bandits

Can't Wait For Another World - CBS

Five-piece Dutch band deliver care-free, light-weight pop/rock topped with wailing, high-pitched vocals. Produced by Dan Hartman and Charlie Midnight and with the help of various guest musicians, the material has contagious moments and pleasant grooves but is far from spectacular. Note the atmospheric piano riffs by Mickey Gallagher on the funky Pussadonna Dreamworld. Best track: Every Heartbeat.

Full Force

Guess Who's Comin' To The Crib! - CBS

Written, arranged and produced by the six-piece American band, the album is full of good-time funk and soul with elastic guitars and dry beats. There is plenty of humor, nasty lines and stuff for the kids. Best bets: Take Care Of Homebrew (co-featuring Lisa Lisa), Full Force Get It Money $, Kary Women and Love Is For Suckers.

Stan Bush & Barrage

San Bush & Barrage - Scott Bros.

An album full of hook-heavy songs by a group who add a hard-rock dimension to power pop and vice versa. Muscular vocals, strung-up guitar solos and occasional saxophones do the job. Love Don't Lie and Heart Vs. Head have hit allure. Also check out Temptation, Gates Of Paradise and the stunning, mesmerising What Is Love.

The Princess Bride

Mus By Mark Knopfer - Vertigo

Highly atmospheric, richly textured soundtrack to the Rob Reiner film performed by Mark Knopfer and Guy Fletcher. How these two manage to actually reproduce complex classical orchestrations is not explained, but it is certainly breathtaking. Mink de Ville is featured on one vocal track, Storybook Love.

Modern Talking

In The Garden Of Venus - Hansa

The duo that defined Euro-pop have announced they are to split up. This LP, their sixth and last, yields enough cut and dried dramatic synthesizer pop to keep the memory of them alive. Title track is already a hit in Belgium and Germany and tracks like Locomotion Tango and Who Will Save The World will be next. MUSIC & ME

ROCK OVER LONDON

Globe Theatre, Shaftesbury Avenue, London W1, tel: 1-4377122

Boy George and his band play a one-off concert at London's Hammersmith Odeon on December 22, his first live date in the UK for three years. There will be a smattering of old Culture Club songs as well as material from his solo LP Sold.

Boy George to play his first live UK gig in three years.

Rough Trade's final farewell to The Smiths is likely to be a live selection. As well as featuring a London concert recorded by the BBC, the album will include some other unusual live material yet to be decided upon.

We've also seen the latest Smiths release - it's Last Night I Dream That Somebody Loved Me and Billy Fury is the cover star. There's also a CD single featuring that long lost track William It Was Really Nothing. Meanwhile, the first fruit of Pink is the colour of a limited edition of the latest Pink Floyd release, The Turning Away. The B-side is Run Like Hell recorded live during their US tour. The CD single edition also features a live recording of On The Turning Away, and the two concert tracks have certainly been turned around quickly - they were taped at the Floyd's show in Atlanta on November 5. An AIDS benefit show took place last weekend at London's Piccadilly Theatre with Hue & Cry, Erasure and Billy Bragg included on the bill. U2, Peter Gabriel, The Christians and Then Jarche have signed the Anti-Apartheid Movement's national petition calling for the release of political detainees in South Africa which was presented to Margaret Thatcher, the South African authorities and the Secretary General of the United Nations last week.

Big Country are in the midst of a very low-key UK college tour where they are keeping the students happy with the hits and trying out a few new songs on them too. The band go into the studio in January to begin work on their next album. And finally: not all the seasonal singles releases are your regular holly-and-mistletoe numbers. You may care to try Stuff The Turkey, the new one by Allen Sex Fiend. It's available in festive green and red vinyl.

Gene Loves Jezbel join the CD singles brigade with a four-track disc featuring Gorgeous, Someone On The Sixth Floor (At The Jezbel Palace), Suspicion and their last UK 45, The Motion Of Love.

Rock Over London is the UK's weekly rock music showcase presented by DJ Graham Dove and syndicated to international radio. The programme goes across America, Canada, Australasia and the Far East.
